

June 4th, An Inside Job
Part 5 in the series 'Way of Life'

What were some things from this message that resonated with you?

Was there anything you wrestled with?

Jim said that if we make happiness a primary objective, it eludes us, but that it is the natural byproduct of a healthy way of life. Has that been your experience?

Nobody is good except God alone. How is it that people can take actions that are morally right, even if they want nothing to do with God?

Why did Jesus tell the rich young ruler he should keep the commandments to inherit eternal life?

What does the rich young ruler's story teach us?

How is the tenth commandment (against coveting) different from the first nine commandments?

How is the tenth commandment similar to the first nine commandments?

If coveting is completely internal and doesn't hurt anyone, why does God care if we covet?

How would you define coveting?

What is the cure for covetousness?

What are the outcomes when we make gratitude a way of life?

Jim said gratitude is not a result of getting what you want, but is a way of life that generates contentment and joy even when you haven't received everything you want. What do you think about that definition?
